Prof. Heng Hu is a Luojia Chair Professor of Wuhan University (China). He received his Ph.D. of solid mechanics in 2006 from University of Lorraine (France). He has been a postdoctoral fellow (2006-2007) in the Solid Mechanics Laboratory of the Ecole Polytechnique (France). His main research interests are in the fields of multi-scale modeling of composite structures, buckling and wrinkling of thin-walled structures. Currently, he is the general council ordinary member of the International Association for Computational Mechanics (IACM), and he serves as the co-editor-in-chief of the journal of Composite Structures.
